PROSPECT FOR GOOD

BIG PEACH CROP. Glastonbury Export Says There is Little Danger to Buds From Frost.

J. H. Male of Glastonbury, who stands at the bead of the peach growers of the country, was seen regrowers of the country, was seen recently by a reporter, who aked him the chronic question as to what were the prospects for the peach crop. Mr.
Hale said that the situation had never been more promising here in Connecticut at this point of the year than it is today. As for Georgia, he said, there had been a steady downpour of rain there for some months, but as the ground had been suffering for moisture for several seasons, he moisture for several seasons, he thought that this soaking would about ward to a successful fruit year.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never rejurned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen Carpenter, 739A Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.
